The following are important rules for the program:

- The amounts do not include any interest. Rather, the amount owed is divided into three equal payments
- Layaway plans can only be used toward prescription eyewear, sunglasses, and contact lenses. They cannot be used to finance eye care services. Eye care services either must be paid in full or financed with direct financing programs such as Care Credit or Advanced Care Financing.
- Layaway plans are offered for a maximum of 3 months, or 90 days. They cannot be extended beyond 90 days.
- Payments can be made via cash, check, or credit card. Payments are fixed and will not change during the layaway period.
- If a check is written from an account with insufficient funds, or a fraudulent credit card is used, then the payment plan is withdrawn, and the full balance will be due along with a penalty of $35. Should you decide not to obtain the eyewear or eye services, money already paid CANNOT be refunded
- If you fail to make the required amount by the due date, the payment plan is withdrawn, and the full balance will be due.
- Prescription eyewear will not be fabricated until 50% of the total balance is paid. Prescription eyewear must be paid in full before it is dispensed.
- Contact lenses have to be paid in full before they are given. That is why layaway programs for contact lenses have to be done separately from prescription glasses
- Non-prescription sunglasses have to be paid in full before they are dispensed. That is why layaway programs for non-prescription sunglasses have to be done separately from prescription glasses
- Layaway plans CANNOT be transferred between people.
- If multiple family members are utilizing layaway plans, a separate plan has to be listed for each respective individual. However, payments for multiple family members may always be combined into one payment.
